Every Part of a Costume Should Now Harmonize.

A QUAINT SHADE OF OLD ROSE

Heavy Lineus Are Once More to the Front - Gray Will Be the Fashionable Color of the Summer-Costumes For Afternoon Wear.

So great is the craze for having every part of the costume harmonize with every other part that whole gowns are often bullt around a particularly stunning hat.

There is an odd shade of old rose, rather bright, but nothing ince cerise. It is exquisite trimmed with lace and touch of silver.

The summer materials are lovelier than ever. Silk and linen mixture are to be favorites. They are pretty. but have the disadvantage of massing

The girl's empire dress in the cut is of gray cloth. The skirt is full and plain save for the stitched band a short distance from the foot line. The jacket is of gray velvet, fastened with aliver buttons.

ATTRACTIVE TRIFLES.

Very pretty are the hair ornaments of the moment, and they are getting almost as high as the hats. Great tufts of ostrich feathers and upstanding jeweled algrets are favorite ornaments at present. Those who cannot afford jewels are wearing silver and gold sequined bows and silvered ospreys. The single rose of deep, glorious red for preference is really more effective, for with the high headdressing it is a simple matter to adjust it becomingly.
